End Study Session

Rating A Study Session (as Creator)

As the creator of a study session, once the user ends the study session, a rating screen will pop up, asking for the user's rating of the study session.

After choosing a rating, the creator can click on the 'Submit' button to finalise their rating of the study session.

Rating A Study Session (as Participant) (Before)

After the creator of the study session ends the study session, all participants' histories will be updated with the said study session.

Participants' individual ratings will also be updated based on the average ratings of the study sessions in their history.
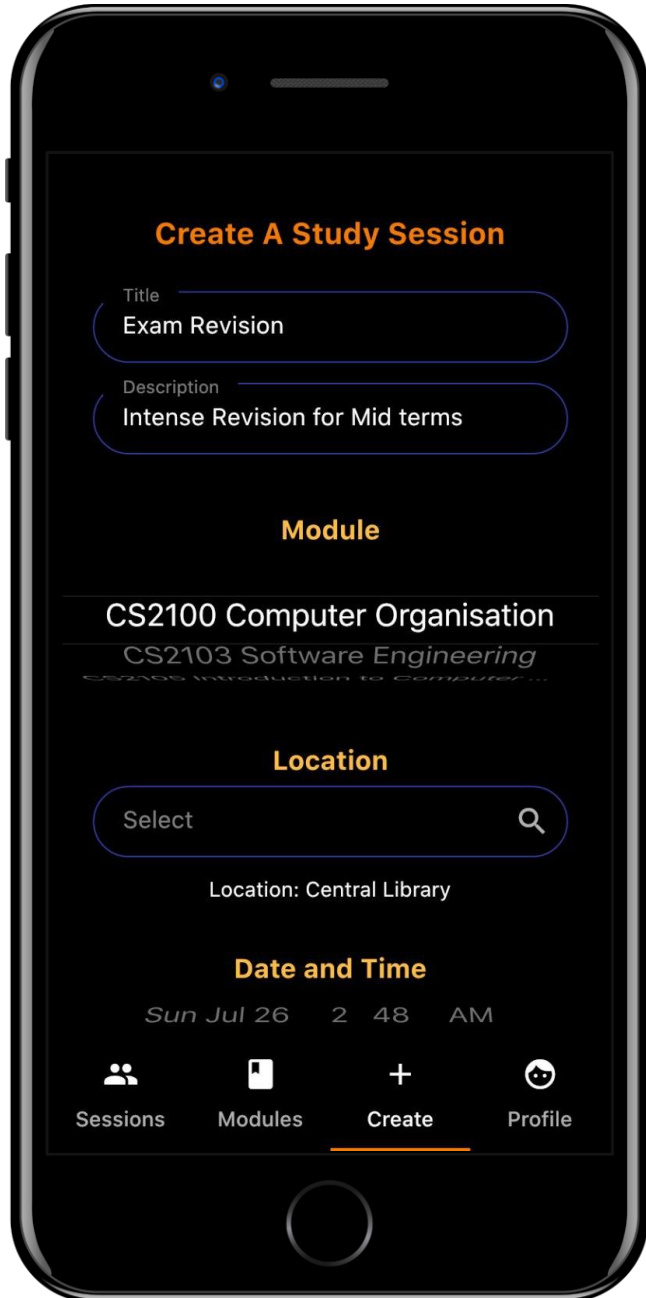

Users who have participated in and have not rated the study session may do so by pressing on the 'Rate' button.

This leads to the same screen as seen in the previous slide.

Rating A Study Session (as Participant) (After)

After rating the study session, the option to 'Rate' will disappear, and the study session's rating along with the participant's rating will be updated.
